COST & CAPITAL RELEASES PAYMENT TERM CALCULATOR APP

Boston, MA, December 9, 2015– Cost & Capital has released its Payment Term Discount Calculator App for Apple and Android devices. The tool provides a quick analysis of when to accept an early pay discount from a supplier. The app automatically calculates the present value of accepting a discount based on the percentage of savings, the procurement organization's cost of capital, and the number of days the payment is accelerated. The app is available for purchase in the App Store, Google Play and on Amazon.

Cost and Capital Partners works with companies to improve cost and capital efficiency. Our client base includes Fortune 1000 companies from the energy, transportation, industrial, automotive, electronics, hospitality, process, consumer and white goods industries. Cost & Capital strives to not only provide our clients with solutions for their current issues but also to transfer our knowledge and equip them with the tools necessary to handle problems on their own.

If you would like more information about the app, please contact calculator@costandcapital.com.
